Here Are The Facts

- 35% of retail workers say they plan to shop for a new job this year
- 38% of hiring managers report having difficulty finding good candidates today
- There are only 44 million members of Generation X and Y (ages 13 to 31) compared to 78 million Baby Boomers

What Does This Mean For Employers?

The truth is that there will soon be a shortage of workers, let alone qualified ones. This will result in more job options for your employees. As the competition for the same workers escalates, preventing turnover will become your biggest priority.

How Does The Fit Series Prevent Turnover?

The Fit Series was designed by combining three valid assessments that have proven to be effective in the marketplace.

Unlike similar products, the Fit Series starts by benchmarking the job. This allows you to determine exactly what the job calls for. The next step is to match the applicants' talents to those of the job. Candidates with matching talents will consistently become top performers that enjoy their work.

What Does The Fit Series Look At?

Values. Your values identify what motivates you. In order to be successful and energized on the job, it is important that your underlying values are satisfied through the nature of your work. When they are, you feel personally rewarded by your work.

Behaviors. When your job requires the use of your top behavioral traits, your potential for success increases, as do your levels of personal and professional satisfaction.

Mixture of Task Types. There are three main task types that we look at (Routine, Trouble-shooting, and Project). Matching the tasks that motivate the person to the tasks of the job result in highly productive and happy employees.
